

Teradyne's Global Anti-Corruption Policy

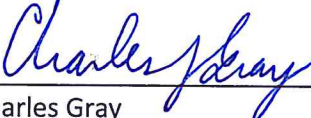

Teradyne conducts business in many countries around the globe, each of which has its own unique laws, customs and business practices. Teradyne requires its employees and business partners in all countries to conduct business with uncompromising integrity and will not tolerate corrupt business practices.

Teradyne's policy against corruption prohibits promising, offering, or giving to, or receiving from, any individual anything of value or personal benefit with the expectation of receiving a favor, a grant of business, or any other business advantage in return. Teradyne's prohibition includes bribery, kickbacks and facilitation payments made to secure or expedite a routine government action. Teradyne maintains a separate Foreign Corrupt Practices Act policy and written guidelines with respect to entertainment and to receiving or giving appropriate gifts.

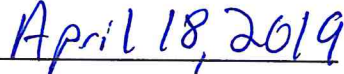

Teradyne is committed to complying with:

- 1) The laws and regulations of each country where Teradyne does business;
- 2) The laws and regulations of the United States, including the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act;
- 3) Other international anti-corruption laws and regulations, including the U.K. Bribery Act of 2010 and the OECD Anti-Bribery Convention; and
- 4) Teradyne's Code of Conduct and policies and procedures.

Teradyne management is responsible for promoting awareness and enforcing this anti-corruption policy. Teradyne management performs this responsibility by administering anti-corruption training, providing a confidential hotline for employees to report any violations, and conducting investigations regarding potential violations. Employees are not subject to retaliation for reporting in good faith a potential violation. Employees who violate this anti-corruption policy are subject to disciplinary action, which may include termination of employment.

Charles Gray
Vice President and General Counsel

Date